

Invited Lecture on Motivation and Self Study

Department of Computer Science and Engineering organized a motivational lecture by Dr. Shakti Dhar Sharma, Rt. from Indian Army, and former professor of astrology in Uttarakhand Sankrit University on August 18, 2018.

He motivated the students and shared many tips for self-study and self-motivation. He shared his personal experience and inspired the students with his words of wisdom. He also encouraged students to join Indian armed forces. The lecture was hugely anticipated by the first year students of CSE branch and concluded with many questions answered by Dr. Shakti on how to bridge the gap between concentration and obstacles in self-study. He has authored many books on intellectual development. Dr. Mayank Aggarwal thanked him and Mr. Ashwani presented a plaque to the invited speaker.
