

Hindi Week celebrations in FET

on 12 September 2024

Haridwar, 12 September 2024 – The Faculty of Engineering and Technology at Gurukul Kangri University celebrated Hindi Week with great enthusiasm and fervour. The event was organized to honour and promote the use of Hindi in academic and professional spheres, featuring a variety of activities, including self-composed poems and thought-provoking speeches by both students and faculty members.

The event showcased an inspiring display of literary creativity from the students and staff, many of whom presented their original poems reflecting their thoughts on life, language, and culture.

The event was skillfully coordinated by Dr. Suyash Bhardwaj and Mr. Prashant Kaushik, whose efforts ensured the program's success.

Dr. M.M. Tiwari delivered a speech emphasizing the importance of integrating Hindi into the teaching process. He advocated for the use of Hindi as a medium of instruction in technical and engineering education, highlighting how it can serve as an effective tool for deeper understanding, especially for students more comfortable with the language. Dr. Tiwari's ideas resonated with the audience, sparking a lively discussion on the role of regional languages in higher education.

Dr. Praveen Pandey also shared his thoughts on the importance of Hindi as a language of emotions and expression. In his speech, Dr. Pandey highlighted how Hindi, being the mother tongue of most Indians, naturally facilitates the expression of emotions, forging a deeper connection between individuals and the subjects they study.

Dr. Suyash Bhardwaj recited an inspiring poem that motivated students to overcome the challenges they face in life. His words, filled with hope and encouragement, were a source of inspiration for the students in attendance.

Mr. Prashant Kaushik mesmerized the audience with his linguistic prowess over Hindi, presenting a self-composed poem that incorporated elements of ancient Indian literary aesthetics. His poetry which received a thunderous applause was a beautiful synthesis of diverse emotions like love, courage, and loyalty, and left a profound impact on the audience.

All performances by the students received appreciation and captivated the audience's attention. Dhruv Rathore and Pratham's self-composed poems were especially well-received, evoking strong emotional responses from the listeners. Aditya Raj's thoughts presented in prose also resonated deeply with the audience. Keshav Sharma delivered an inspiring presentation on the thoughts of Swami Vivekananda, while Vimal Prasad recited the timeless work of iconic Hindi poet Ramdhari Singh 'Dinkar' from Rashmirathi, which garnered immense praise from the audience. Other Students of Engineering like Rajat Bharti, Abhishek Gupta, and Shubham Kumar also enthralled the audience with their mesmerizing performances. First year student Aditya Kumar also helped the organisers in arrangements for the event.

The Dean of the Faculty of Engineering and Technology, Professor Vipul Sharma, extended his heartfelt congratulations and blessings to all the participants and organizers of the Hindi Divas event. In his address, Professor Sharma emphasized the importance of cultural and linguistic pride, urging students to embrace Hindi in their academic and personal lives. He lauded the efforts of the faculty and students in keeping the spirit of Hindi alive through such events and encouraged everyone to continue working towards promoting the language in the field of engineering and technology.

The University Registrar, Dr. Sunil Kumar, commended the organizers for their commendable efforts in making the event a resounding success. He appreciated the hard work of both teachers and students in making Hindi Divas memorable and stressed the importance of such events in preserving and promoting the richness of the Hindi language.

Vice-Chancellor Professor Hemlata K. also congratulated the participants and organizers. She praised the students for their creativity and enthusiasm in contributing original poems and participating in the celebration of Hindi. She expressed her hope that this event would inspire more students to adopt Hindi in their academic and professional journeys.

The Hindi Divas celebration concluded with a vote of thanks to all the participants, teachers, and students who contributed to making the event a grand success. The event not only fostered a sense of pride in Hindi as a national language but also encouraged its adoption in both academic and personal spheres. The success of the event is a testament to the growing recognition of Hindi's relevance in education and its power as a medium of creative expression.

Also present at the event were Dr. Sunil Panwar, Dr. Sanjeev Lambha, Dr. Lokesh Joshi, Dr. Aman Tyagi, Mr. Ashwani, Mr. Abhishant, and other esteemed faculty members.
