

Digital Entrepreneur workshop at Balloni Public School, Kotdwar on 4 February 2026

An Digital Entrepreneur program on emerging technologies and entrepreneurship was successfully organized on 4 February 2026 at Balloni Public School, Kotdwar. The program aimed at educating school students about cutting-edge technologies such as Artificial Intelligence (AI), Machine Learning, Cloud Computing, and Quantum Computing, while motivating them to develop an entrepreneurial mindset for future challenges.

The program was inaugurated by the Mrs. Abhilasha Bhardwaj Director, Balloni Public School, who welcomed the guests and emphasized the importance of early exposure to advanced technologies for school students in the rapidly evolving digital era.

The keynote session was delivered by Dr. Suyash Bhardwaj, who acted as the Expert Speaker for the program. In his lecture on “Introduction to Artificial Intelligence and Machine Learning”, Dr. Bhardwaj explained fundamental concepts of AI and ML in a simple and engaging manner suitable for school students.

He highlighted how emerging technologies such as AI, machine learning, cloud computing, and quantum computing are shaping the future and playing a crucial role in making India ready for upcoming technological challenges and advancements. He encouraged students to develop curiosity, problem-solving skills, and innovation-oriented thinking from an early age to become future technologists and entrepreneurs.

Adding a strong practical dimension to the program, students from the Faculty of Engineering and Technology demonstrated:

A working robot

A remote-controlled robot car

These demonstrations generated immense interest among the school students and helped them understand the real-world applications of robotics and automation.

The program was highly interactive, with around 100 school students actively participating. Students asked numerous questions related to AI applications, career opportunities, future technologies, and how they could start learning and innovating at the school level. The enthusiastic participation reflected a strong interest among students in technology-driven careers.

Dr. Suyash Bhardwaj remarked that introducing students to emerging technologies at the school level is essential for building a future-ready and self-reliant India. He emphasized that awareness, skill development, and entrepreneurial thinking must begin early to nurture innovators who can contribute meaningfully to national development.

Mrs. Abhilasha Bhardwaj, Director of Balloni Public School appreciated the initiative and stated that such programs play a vital role in broadening students’ horizons beyond textbooks. He expressed gratitude to the expert speaker and the engineering students for inspiring young minds and reaffirmed the school’s commitment to organizing more technology-oriented and skill-based programs in the future.

The program concluded on a highly positive note, with students gaining valuable insights into emerging technologies and future career pathways. Overall, the outreach program was a huge success, effectively motivating school students to explore technology, innovation, and entrepreneurship, thereby contributing to the vision of a technologically empowered and innovation-driven India.
